

Can you spot the hand carrying harmful bacteria?

We can't always see them, but germs are all around us. That's why it's important to clean your hands with an alcohol rub before and after every patient contact. You'll kill 99% of the nasty critters, and ensure your patient stays on the road to a healthy recovery.

Clean hands, safe hands.